These employers were selected to represent an area of future substantial job growth / greatest hiring potential and for the innovative way they think...

After the first week of orientation at Dunwoody Technical College, PRIME TIME offers you a chance to sample 5 major areas of employment. You will spend a week within each career area to include 3 days at each location, experiencing the environment, culture, schedules, and several types of work available in that field. The other two days of each week, you will experience related work sites to broaden the experience within that career search area. You will have a much better idea of what you are interested in and what types of jobs you are suited for.

Then, after you have sampled these five areas, PRIME TIME staff will assist you with assessing what career area to pursue. You will then move into the month-long internship within the industry of choice and at the employer's location, resulting in a certificate and valuable experience for your resume.
